begin with unlocking the doors

With that began the new school year. As first-year students moved into their new lives, they had no idea what to expect. Conversely those that were seasoned veterans knew exactly what we had to offer.

Whether you were a freshman or a senior, anticipation was the overall feeling.

Most first-year students wanted a change, an opportunity to be on their own, "I looked forward to getting out of my hometown," said

Stephanie Miller.

Returning students experienced less anxiety than those who were new.

"When I returned to school in the fall, I knew I already had made several friends last year," said Regan Wessar,

"I also knew my dorm well since I was going to be the Resident Advisor."

After the doors were unlocked and emotions settled, the year was ready to begin.

outside of the books

Beyond classes, homework, and exams came reality to students.
Some lived on campus while others commuted. Some were able to visit home often, others couldn't.
Some of us even had families of our own.
Life outside the classroom varied. Some kept part time jobs, some had a full life, and many others chose to become active around campus.
Some of us were visible on campus while some of us blended in.
No matter who you were or how you chose to define your life here, we all had a life outside of the books.

Leaders try to make way for each other with this game that is intended to build trust.

The ball is in whose court now? FOCUS leaders take turns discussing what FOCUS means to them.

Finally, they are all prepared for what lies ahead. FOCUS leaders are ready for the new students to arrive.

What does this game prove? That all FOCUS leaders must depend on one another through this tough time.

DO YOU know how they get focused first?

For new students FOCUS is a very important time, its when they get acquainted with Stetson and what it has to offer, without all the hustle and bustle. FOCUS is led by fellow upperclassmen, who know the ropes. But, how do they get to become such a wealth of information and such great leaders? The answer is training, for about a week before the students arrive they begin psyching themselves up with activities that will help them through all that is to come.

It's clear what the top priority is to this FOCUS leader, just look around her neck.

DO YOU

want us to entertain you?

The Council for Student Activities has had a very active year. They have had a wide variety of events ranging from bands to comedians, from large events like major concerts to a casual canoe trip. Past performers have included Blues Traveler, Jars of Clay, Elastica, Carrot Top, Jon Stewart, and most recently Tommy Davidson. The council consists of eight students, who are paid a small amount for their large duties. Each student assumes responsibility for at least one event in the year. For each event, the students must advertise, book the act, assure the contracts have been signed and coordinate the specific requirements with the performer. Though C.S.A. is a lot of work it gives members invaluable experience needed to succeed in today's world. Besides, where else are you going to meet famous people like the ones who have visited us?

Rodney Carrington puts on his country boy accent when talking about his life back home. This was one of C.S.A.'s first events of the semester.

Tommy Davidson, who performed during Stetson Weekend, was a riot to both the young and old who came to see his act.

One of the most popular events that C.S.A. put on during the year was Las of Clay. You can see now much the crowd enjoyed the enthusiasm by the members of the band.

for service has no finish line

“Greenfeather was not only a time to get better acquainted with your fellow organization members but a time to better acquaint yourself with the community as well. It made me feel good that I could help someone and have fun at the same time.”

Ma. [Name]

Tradition has always played a major role in the history of Stetson, and one of the longest traditions is that of Greenfeather. Everyone has the opportunity to participate through an organization they are involved in. The object is to accumulate as many points possible. Points were awarded in the following competitions: Rock-a-thon, bowling, nights out, Airwaves, chalk-art; these only highlight the festivities. With the trophies badly wanted, the competition was stiff. The winners emerged after a neck-and-neck race. Winners were: Residence Halls: Conrad; Organizations: Phi Alpha Delta; Fraternities: Sigma Nu; and Sororities: Zeta Tau Alpha. No matter who won everyone proved to be the victor when over $10,000 dollars was raised for the community. This proves that the race for service really has no finish line and never will, here's to tradition.

Fraternities participate in the Greenfeather Tug-O-War competition.

Pi Phi's sing their hearts out for Air-waves. This proved to be one of the most popular and fun events during Greenfeather.

The Surf Club was one of the hardest working organizations at the Chalk-Art competition. Not only did they want to help others but they also wanted to look good doing it.

The Greenfeather Olympics three-legged race is underway! It was all the contestants could do to stay on all three's!

seeing the future now!

“Being able to incorporate both Homecoming and Reunion weekend this year, made both events more enjoyable. It was a way of mixing both the past and the present.”

Brandi Martin

Stetson weekend was a great way to bring the Stetson community together. From the 40’s dance to the barbecue by Student Alumni Association this weekend was a great success. “In the past both events have been held separately but by culminating the two activities into one event we felt we would receive greater participation on everyone’s behalf,” said Brandi Martin, member of SA. Not only were there great times but great people. We had entertainment by Tommy Davidson and even some more local celebs stopped by. Joe Nemec, who Nemec Hall is named after, came to see his alma mater after all these years. No matter what brought you to Stetson weekend, the past or the future, it was definitely a great success.

know what your future holds?

After four grueling years, graduation day finally arrived. The event brought back memories of all the trials and tribulations seniors have gone through to get to this moment. Just to think that this moment will be over in just a few short hours. During the ceremony everyone is on a roller coaster of emotions. It seems as though you really don't know what to feel. Although, what a better way to be inspired than by Lt. Gov., Kenneth Hood (Buddy) MacKay. He gave an inspirational address about what lies ahead for these graduates and how to encounter these obstacles. Following this each grad was called up to receive his diploma. With that, the grads moved their tassels over and became members of the Alumni.

A soon to be graduate thanks all those people in her life which have made this moment possible for her. What an inventive way of doing so!

Chaudoin Hall residents went "Above and Beyond" this year as they built friendships that will last a lifetime. The building was a fun place to live and a place where people truly cared about each other. Friendships grew closer as the residents went through Rush together, played intramurals, and participated in exciting hall programs. One of the most exciting and revealing programs all year was when the pairs played in "The Roommate Game," our version of "The Newlywed Game."

Conrad Hall has been working hard to "Soar to New Heights" in resident living. The staff focused on programming to encourage community development. Some of the floor favorites included hall dinners, fingerpainting fiascoes and Pummo! Community grew stronger as we won the Greenfeather Championships and worked toward another intramural win.

Nemec Hall staff has worked hard to make everyone feel at home. We tried to make living together fun. The dorm was not just a place to sleep or work, but also a place to have fun and be yourself. Our hall programs this year were a big success. Everyone loved "Around the World in One Night," and we also rooted for our intramural team the "Nemec Nasties." We had a great year and our residents deserved it.

Smith Hall wanted to make everyone feel as through they were part of the process. The staff made this possible with many hallwides and outings together. Staff included: Chris Theodore, Stephaine Wireman, Patrick Fleming, Head Resident-Kristen Rutherford, Jessica Brown, Cedric Lewis, and J.J. Hudson.

Gordis Hall strived to make dorm life more of a social life. With regular meeting the RA's tired to plan activities that all could be involved in. RA staff consisted of: Ron Smith, Dave Leidel, J.R. Williams, Dennis Clark, Patrick Chapman, and Bret Beyer. All of them wanted to make Gordis a great place to live.

Stetson hall worked and played hard to make this year successful with their residents. We planned hallwides and trips to make this year memorable . The best was our fondue night when we all got in touch with our sweeter side. As the saying goes "Stetson Hall-It's a Suite Life." Emily has done everything to make living fun. We are known for our hall programs, having received honorable mention for them at this years Florida Resident Advisor Seminar in January. They ranged from fingerpainting and the "Food for Food" to the coffeeshouse. No matter what the theme was we sure got involved in everyone's social life. We also want to congratulate two of our outstanding RA's for being recognized as two of the top leaders in Florida, Amanda Marder and Shannon MacLaughlan.

living it up in the dorms!

"Whoever said dorm life wasn't great probably never lived in a dorm! You've got your friends, your room and your life pretty much all in the same place, what could be better!"

Laura Forts

Dorm life was what defined many of our lives! We made most of our friends from those that lived near us. It seemed as though if we were bored there was always someone down the hall feeling the same way, whom we could get together with! Along the same lines, most of us will never forget our roommates. Whether you were constantly together or you couldn't be further apart, they seem to have a big impact on you and your life here in the dorms. However you chose to define you dorm life, we sure were living it up.

building great minds

Stetson has a tradition of academic excellence which far surpasses everything you can imagine.

The faculty and administration pride themselves on the fact that Stetson rates among the top five schools in the South academically. Although the three schools (Arts and Sciences, Music, and Business) vary, one thing remains the same... their standards. Everyone here is put to the test, the question is can you pass?

the leaders of the hat

Stetson is proud to have such a dedicated and hard-working group of administrators. Along with maintaining a close relationship with students, they maintain close working relationships with each other. They try to prevent potential problems and must deal quickly with whatever arises. Their closeness with the student body is part of what makes Stetson so unique. Recently they began receiving student input by implementing the Strategic Student Planning Council (SSPC), where chosen student representatives bring their concerns back to the administration. It is only with these types of programs that a university can be truly successful in its students eyes, and Stetson is doing a wonderful job. Always willing to go the extra mile, we appreciate our hardworking administrators for all that they do for us.

all different Schools of thought

All the different schools here have an excellent reputation. Varying from the School of Business to Music to Arts & Sciences, no matter which you define yourself by one thing remains the same: you must work hard in order to succeed. While Music students spend most of their time in Presser rehearsing, business students call LBC their home, and Arts & Sciences stare Elizabeth in the face most of the day. In each school students are put through rigorous exams and tests to see if they can overcome the obstacles of college and that of the real world. No matter which you call your home we all know what it means to WORK.

The Lynn Business Center claims a large part of Stetson's population. It is there where students will prepare for the business world.

take a break from reality

All of us know how grueling studying is, it seems as though it occupies all of our time. Even though it seems to, it doesn't we have plenty of time to relax, but how do we take a break from reality? Some of us just leave our studies for a while and venture out. Others of us just want to be in a quiet place. Some of us like to stay busy, only with other things such as working. Also, instead of working our minds some of us relax by working our bodies. "I just like to lay down," says Chris Robertson, "when I get stressed." No matter how you handle down time try to break from studying and think of yourself for a change.

Hall programs provide great escapes during the biggest crunch times.

The library can sometimes be a great place to relax; it's quiet and you can ponder what your weekend plans are.

Relaxing by working: it doesn't even seem to be a break, but some of us like to stay busy.

Angie Morton pins a new member of Phi Alpha Delta. The Pre-Law fraternity held a number of cultural events.

events become standard

With all the other basic requirements in order to graduate the administration decided to tack on one more. We all must attend twenty-four cultural events before we can graduate—that's three a semester. But, what exactly qualifies? A sport event? No. But there are a wealth of other things that do. For instance, speakers, productions in Stover Theatre, and various club activities. "I thought cultural events would be boring, but I enjoyed all of them." Whatever events you chose to attend you will be sure to gain something for them.

Here the troupe stops in Miami to perform. During their spare time they tour the city.

Cementing Friendships

Stetson University takes great pride in all that its organizations do. The organizations help to bring culture to the campus, by bringing in speakers and hosting events. They also give Stetson the tight bond with the community through all of the charity work they do. But most of all they bring a lot of fun to campus through all kinds of activities and parties.

COMMUNITY

Helping Out

One of the things that Stetson is most proud of is the effect that Stetson has on the community in the surrounding areas. Stetson encourages all students to participate in community service, and sponsors many community events each year.

Stetson has many organizations such as Habitat for Humanity and Into the Streets whose purpose is solely for the contribution to the community. However, many of the other organizations on campus, as well as, the Greeks plan and participate in community service. These organizations raise money through various fund-raisers, help underprivileged children by hosting parties by participating programs like Adopt an Angel, or physically go and help build or repair houses with the Into the Streets program.

All of these programs being brought to campus and being backed by various organizations gives all Stetson students the chance to participate in these events, which are greatly appreciated throughout the community.

Cultural Events

A Bit of Culture

Stetson hosts many cultural events and speakers each year to help expose Stetson's students to various perspectives of life in the world. Of course now that Stetson has created the cultural event requirement attendance at these events has increased. The events vary greatly from a speaker for the business school, plays and performances by the music and theatre departments, to the Guatemalan family brought in by the foreign language department.

A couple of the larger events, were when the Guatemalan family came to speak about their culture and life there. The other was the showing of Peter and the Wolf. Both the music school and the theatre department combined to put on a great performance for Martin Luther King III and the rest of the Stetson Community.

These events were made into a requirement because Stetson felt like students were missing out on a very large opportunity to become educated in different cultural aspects. Many of the students that attended the events this year for the credits thought that the events were good and that they enjoyed going. Maybe Stetson like our parents feels sometimes we need a little incentive to do what is good for us.

Greek Life

Still RUSHin'

Stetson's fraternities and sororities are a large part of life at Stetson, so it is no surprise that Rush is an important time on Stetson's campus. Anyone that has been through Rush can attest to the bonds that are created during it. The people that choose to continue through the process and become Greek become both members into the large group, either the fraternity or sorority, while at the same time becoming a member of their own distinct pledge class.

The others that choose not to become Greek have still formed many friendships through the Rushing process. The parties are a chance for the fraternities and sororities to eye up prospects, the prospects to eye up the fraternities and sororities, and a chance to socialize with other Stetson students.

Although the Rush experience is somewhat stressful for both the participants and the Greeks, the overall experience is meant to be all for fun. The Greeks try to figure out a person's entire personality in a very short period of time to see which student's they feel are best for their fraternity/sorority and the students must decide which fraternity/sorority is right for them.

Alpha Chi Omega

Alpha Chi Omega has remained active in the Stetson and DeLand community this year. Everyone enjoyed our annual Newlywed Game which helped us raise money for Alpha Chi's philanthropy, domestic violence. We enjoyed giving our time to Habitat to Humanity, the AIDS walk in Daytona, and helping a Brownie troop earn their badges.

Even though we were busy giving we still had time to have fun. This year's annual Woodser was a blast, as well as, the First Annual Golden Lyre Ball. We also had fun at Italian Wedding and Red Carnation Ball, also the various socials held with fraternities and sororities.

As Alpha Chi's we pride ourselves on our sisterhood, leadership, community service, and academic excellence.

Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity was founded at the College of Charleston on December 10, 1904. The Chi Chapter of Pi Kappa Phi at Stetson was founded in 1921. After four years of being inactive on Stetson's campus, the Chi chapter was recolonized in 1996 by the new founding fathers. This makes Pi Kappa Phi both one of the oldest and newest fraternities at Stetson. Pi Kappa Phi's dedication to C.L.A.S.S., Character, Leadership, Athletics, Scholarship, and Service has Pi Kappa Phi quickly becoming one of the strongest fraternities at Stetson University.

Pi Beta Phi

Pi Beta Phi, founded April 28, 1867, at Monmouth College in Illinois, continued a history of success. The Florida Alpha chapter became the first sorority on campus in 1913.

Pi Beta Phi serves two national philanthropies. Arrowmont is a nationally recognized school for the arts in Gatlin, Tennessee. The school was founded by Pi Beta Phi, and our chapter contributed to it this year by the sales of "Easter-Grams," and by posting descriptive signs around campus to foster the awareness of the philanthropy. Our second philanthropy is Links To Literacy. It is designed to promote the importance of reading and writing to children and adults. This year Links To Literacy Week was a great success, highlighted by our all-you-can-eat-pie "Pi Social," which raised over $100, and the donation of over 250 books to local services.

In addition to terrific philanthropies, Pi Beta Phi participated in several social functions. Fall semester events included the annual "Down In The French Quarter" social with the men of Sigma Phi Epsilon, as well as our heavenly winter formal held in Daytona Beach. Spring semester was exciting also, with our "Beaux and Arrows" Valentines Day semi-formal, spring formal at the beautiful Radisson Plaza in Orlando, and the quad "Disco Party" social.

Pi Beta Phi's continued to strive for excellence in all areas, and preserved our dedication to friendships, scholarship, and leadership throughout Stetson's campus.

Sigma Nu

The Delta Mu chapter of Sigma Nu was recognized by its national fraternity as the Most Improved Sigma Nu chapter in the southeast United States. Sigma Nu maintained a strong presence on campus by winning the Greenfeather Fundraiser for the third consecutive year, as well as winning the Stetson University award for the Most Improved Fraternity the past two years. Sigma Nu continues to involve itself in serving the community, both locally and otherwise. Their social highlights include the Halloween Party in the fall, and the spring Disco Party.

Zeta Tau Alpha

The Beta Psi chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha had another outstanding year which kept up with tradition. During the fall rush, we pledged 22 outstanding women.

Socially we had a blast with our two formals- Moonlight Masquerade & White Violet Ball. Also the Disco Quad, pool party with the ATQ's, and Ball of Confusion were successes.

Our annual Crown Classic Pool tournament was outstanding for our philanthropy - Susan G. Komen Foundation.

All these things promoted sisterhood, pride, love, and memories that will last a lifetime.

AKA

Alpha Kappa Alpha

Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Incorporated was the first national sorority established by African American college women, but its membership consists of women of varying ethnic backgrounds. Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc. also has international chapters in many foreign countries such as Bermuda, Korea, the Bahamas, and Germany. AKA's the world over prides themselves on giving back to the community.

Since its inception on Stetson's campus Alpha Kappa Alpha has held firmly to its motto of "Service to all Mankind" by contributing timeless hours to community service by volunteering at the local youth center, tutoring students in the AKA house. In the Stetson community they participate in service projects put together by panhellenic and Into the Streets. Along with all of this Alpha Kappa Alpha also this year Mentored Thirteen Students from DeLand Middle School.

AKA members involve themselves in numerous campus activities such as FOCUS, Greenfeather, CSA, Black Students Association, SGA, Carribean Club, and Quest just to name a few.

Since AKA's don't believe in all work and no play, they also take time out of their busy schedules to attend step-shows and host socials.

Members pose with sister from the first AKA chapter in the 1970's.

Alpha Tau Omega

Alpha tau Omega enjoyed another successful year, making improvements in all aspects of fraternity life. The brothers of Alpha Tau Omega had the highest GPA on campus fall semester. ATΩ also rose to the top and captured the Greek Week title. Great improvements were made to the house as well, including a new pool table, a renovated volleyball court, and a brand new fenced-in deck. Also, ATΩ intramurals enjoyed its best year in recent history.

Along with these improvements, ATΩ continued its excellence in the social aspect of fraternity life. Brothers as well as their guests enjoyed events such as: fall and winter formal, Cooler on the Beach, Jungle Party, and Viking Party.

The main focus of ATΩ is to mold and create leaders. The brotherhood is comprised of strong leaders who play an active role in many campus and community organizations.

The Building Blocks

Stetson students tend to have the ability to maintain busy academic lives and have time to get involved with other activities. Students find time to work, volunteer, become active in campus organizations, and still go out and enjoy themselves. Rarely does a Stetson student experience boredom!

A student draws a lottery number during room selection. Many were glad to choose their roommates and housing assignments.

Students gather in Nite Lites to enjoy comical entertainment. They also enjoyed free mocktails.

THE CLASS OF 1997

Faculty members and the soon-to-be graduates prepare for commencement. Parents, other relatives, and friends filled the Edmonds Center to watch the ceremony.

Bilingual Theatrics

Julie Schmitt, Carlos Montenegro, Will Joseph, Josette Galtieri, Kelly Sullivan, and Mark Kenneally enjoy a beautiful Puerto Rican sunset during their trip.

Six Stetson students participated in a program that required them to be skilled in two areas: theater arts and the Spanish language.

Kelly Sullivan, Josette Galtieri, William Joseph, Carlos Montenegro, Julie Schmitt, and Mark Kenneally auditioned their acting and Spanish abilities and were asked by Dr. Iliana Mankin, professor of Spanish, and Dr. Ken McCoy, professor of theater arts, to be part of the pilot project.

The students spent hours each day learning lines for and practicing the plays in English and Spanish, while the professors helped them with pronunciation and stage direction.

The group held performances during the fall semester at Stover Theatre at Stetson; then, during the winter break, they travelled to Miami, Florida and Puerto Rico to perform for audiences there.

According to Will Joseph, who is a theater and history major, "it was an experience I couldn't have gotten from a textbook. It's helped me look at my classes in a whole new light."

Above: The talented actors perform a short play in Spanish. Will played a bartender.

Holidays Away From Home

Nicki Tindell covers her candle as she walks toward the cement circle in front of the CUB. Nicki was among several students who joined community members in the annual Yule Log Lighting at Hulley Tower.

Celebrating holidays in a dorm or apartment instead of in their own homes requires some getting used to for most students. However, those who got involved in holiday activities on campus found that they could still have fun and enjoy the festivities.

Stetson takes part in several annual holiday events. For instance, every December, students can participate in the Adopt-An-Angel program by choosing a needy child from the Christmas tree in the CUB and buying him or her a gift. They then meet their "angels" at a party and watch them open their presents.

Organizations often hold holiday parties as well. This year, the Sigma Nu fraternity hosted a St. Patrick's Day party at their house; the party was open to everyone on campus.

Student John Maple advises, "Do something fun during the holidays; don't just sit in your room."

Friends Keri Bell, Heather Moss, and Brande Martin get in the spirit of Halloween. The trio began their night at the campus-wide Halloween party held at Carson/Hollis.

Exams, papers, projects--these are all important aspects of college life, but so is getting a little rest and relaxation.

When students find themselves stressing over their work, academic, and other demands, many find that exercising, pursuing a hobby, or just hanging out helps alleviate life's pressures. One can observe rollerbladers and bicyclists making tracks all over campus and others just lounging on a bench or the grass.

Sam Johnston can be seen nearly every day exercising at the local YMCA. According to him, "School is important, but so is my sanity." Exercise is his outlet and helps keep him functioning. When he feels better, he says his academic performance will also be better.

Many students find that the best way to meet people on campus is by getting to know their hallmates. Particularly for primarily freshmen halls such as Smith, hallmates often become and remain close friends.

Hall programs provide an easy way for students to get to know their neighbors. Resident Assistants (R.A.s) are trained in creating a community-like atmosphere for their halls, and they are required to plan and participate in programs. R.A. Stephanie Galfano advises everyone, and especially first-year students, "to go to hall programs. They can be a lot of fun!"

knocking down the competition

Stetson sports broke through this year with a record bang. It was an exciting year for all sports. Optimism began each season, and high hopes were rewarded by the tough athletes' persistent hard work. Although everyone may not have ended up on top, each team got better and stronger as the year progressed. As teams got better so did our facilities. With the addition of new tennis facilities and improvements throughout the gym, Stetson is sure to be up to par.

Hatter Basketball

There is magic in believing

To believe is to have trust and good. Everyone has to be in-faith in something. For Randy Brown, Stetson's second year head coach, that something is teaching student-athletes how to play the game of basketball within a team-oriented atmosphere.

"The only way we have a chance to be successful is if we play as a team," Coach Brown said. "What we are trying to emphasize to our players is that we are all here for each other. They must understand that their value to the team is only as good as what their teammates are putting into the program. Nobody is above the team. Collectively, we can be pretty involved because everyone is important on the team."

The 1996-97 team had three returning starters, 5 returning letterwinners, and 8 solid newcomers which put the team in good standing for a great season. They wound up the season with a 9-18 overall mark and 5-11 in the TransAmerica Athletic Conference. With many returning players in 97-98 the Hatters will be expecting an even greater record.

Coach Brown ended the season with this: "Everyone on this team has a role, and for us to remain successful, each player must keep fulfilling his role."

Forward Fred Entenman gets around FAU to put another one in the net for the Hatters.

Kenneth Johnson takes a shot gained from one of his turnovers. He turned over the ball four times in this bout with Florida International.

Hatters' abound for the ball, as it goes up and into play.

Stetson's Academic Study Table is a vital component to the Hatters' success in the classroom.

Lady Hatters Basketball

Stepping up to the Challenge!

Riding the wave of enthusiasm and excitement generated from last year's success, Hatter basketball coach Dee Romine saw her team step up to the challenge. History continued to repeat itself. Stetson showed a strong effort in the Trans America Athletic Conference. Since Romine was named head coach three years ago, The Hatters have finished one step above where they were picked in the pre-season poll. This year, the Hatters were picked second.

Romine, 50-32 in three seasons at Stetson, had a strong nucleus of veterans and a talented recruiting class to give the Hatters the strength to compete for the TAAC title. Last year's squad set a school record for best conference finish (second) and had its best overall record (19-9) since the 1986-87 season.

The Hatters had to work hard to keep their position in the TAAC Tournament, held here in Deland on March 6-8. As usual, Conference competition was tough with powers Florida International and Florida Atlantic returning with the bulk of their teams. As many as ten teams had a legitimate chance to win the TAAC Championship.

Stetson Ranked Among Nation's Finest in 1997

When a ballclub has seven starters and a veteran pitching staff returning from a team that won 42 games and advanced to the NCAA Regionals for the first time since 1992, great things were expected for the season. This was the case for 1997 Stetson Hatters, who entered the season ranked No. 16th by Baseball America and No. 23rd by Collegiate Baseball.

Led by 1996 Trans America Athletic Conference Coach of the Year, Pete Dunn

(629-365 in 17 seasons at SU), the Hatters returned to the diamond with a high-powered offense and consistent pitching staff that strived to make its first trip to the college world series in Omaha, Nebraska. However, with a demanding TAAC schedule and a non-conference line-up that included 11 games against teams ranked in Collegiate Baseball's Fabulous 40 Pre-Season Poll, the road to Omaha was not easy.

Right-handed pitcher Matt Brown compiled his fourth season for the Hatters by keeping his consistent successful style.

Set, spike, dig: Three keys to the teams success

In all her years here at Stetson, head coach Janiece Holder has had high expectations. This year the Hatters improved their overall record being 17-9. Despite their loss, 0-6, at the TACC Tournament they still have great hopes for improvement and look forward to next year.

Melissa Roy led the team with a record 432 kills and the team did an outstanding job with 1304, a jump of over 200 from last years totals. The team hopes to improve another 200 next year with hope of gaining a place in the spotlight at the TACC tournament.

Karen Hagman spikes the ball over the net. She proved to be a valuable asset to the team.

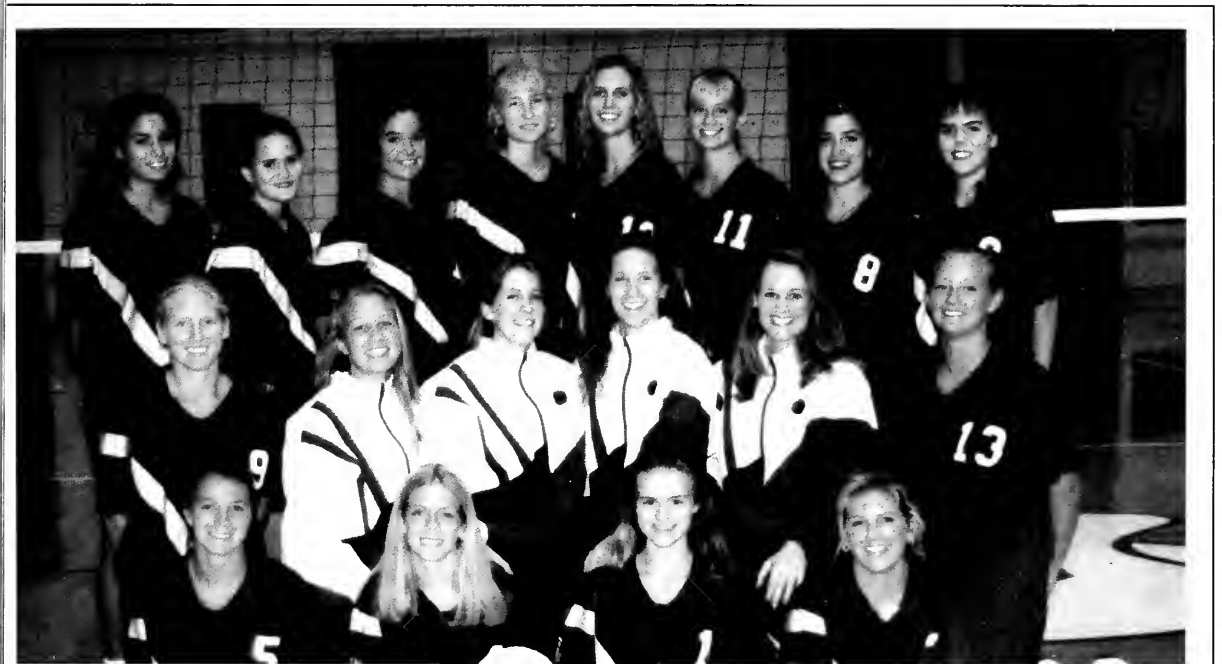

Stetson and its opposition congratulate each other on a good game. This is a way of building team spirit and unity.

Melissa Roy leading the team in kills, has a special place for all of her shots to go. She also has a cheering section to go along with.

The team huddles up right before a game. It is here that all the planning and praying takes place.

Hatter Volleyball 1997: Melissa Roy, Nicolette Corso, Tricia Bacon, Bekah Sentgeorge, Catie Collins, Kelly Russell, Tanya Roe, Courtney Heaps, Karen Hagman, Taryn Lynn, Rebecca Flick, Courtney Davis, Erica Snyder, Rachel Piering.

Senior Alisa Richter carries the ball to the goal for the score. Seniors were the foundation of this year lady Hatters.

Lady Hatter Soccer Team for 1997: Melissa This 16, Kristy Porecchi 15, Melissa Streeter 6, Colleen Marscher 14, Ashley Temple 23, Julie Wagner 17, Melissa Engle 10, Stacey Mack 19, Kelli Cashion 4, Theresa Henault 18, Erica Logan 22, Wendy Howland 2, Tanya Brousseau 9, Alisa Richter 7, Jill Labram 8, Megan Marscher 12, Tara Brousseau 20, Becca Biteric 3, Sara Canatsev 13, Kate Blanchfield 21, Becca Whitaker 11, Sylvia Vigil goalkeeper.

Lady Hatters pull through for Stetson Soccer

After the third season of rebuilding, mens soccer was hopeful for a strong season but the team still needed to build. Even with returning members the team suffered with a 2-11-2 season and poor performance in the TAAC tournament with a 1-5 record.

This year did see the addition of nine new freshman Hatters to the team for 1996-97. With this addition of underclassmen players hopes are high for a strong 1997-98 season.

History was made by the Stetson women's soccer team this fall. It was only four years ago when Stetson University lunched its inaugural season of women's soccer. Kellie Cashion, Tricia Lofan, Alisa Richter, Melissa Streeter and Sylvia Vigil provided head coach Bob Wilson with his first senior class in the program's existence. This five-person crew helped build the program over the last three years and has left an impressive mark on the record book with a 12-8 season and TAAC 5-5 record.

Cheer and Dance

A great way to get the Hatter crowd pumped up

An integral part of any sporting event here at Stetson were the cheerleaders and Synchronicity. The cheerleaders were prepared to pump up any crowd with their booming voices and difficult stunts. With some returning members and a hearty bunch of newcomers they dazzled the crowd and did well in preparation for any upcoming competitions. Likewise, no basketball game would be complete without the dance team. Synchronicity performed during halftime and at various time-outs. No matter who pumped you up both squads were always strutting their stuff.

Getting the crowd pumped up with team spirit, was one of the cheerleaders most difficult moves. Here, a traditional game cheer: STETSON.

Synchronicity prepare to strut their stuff during halftime.

The crowd gets pulled to their feet as the squads pump them and the team up.

Hatter Softball

Outlook: A new beginning for the coach, but veteran players

Hatter Softball had a new coach at the helm this year. Frank Griffin joined the Hatters with high hopes. His background was extensive, having coached at Winthrop University for seven years. He was very excited to get the season underway with 11 returning letterwinners and six talented newcomers. The team gained valuable experience this year and left the season with a 21-25 overall record, which is an improvement from previous seasons. This year was definitely a great one for Griffin and the Hatters.

Senior Captains: Danielle Mortiere, Lynda Knighton, Kate Blanchfield

financing the work

Stetson and its community works hand in hand, comprised of DeLand and all the friends and parents of graduating seniors whom purchased ads. The Hatter could not have been published without the patronage of all of these groups put together. Hopefully, now the graduates can give of themselves and give back to the community.

A great way to pay for everything that college entails is to work on campus. Food service provides many jobs to students.

Many students have cars on campus so that they can travel to jobs. The Orlando area is a mecca for student employees here at Stetson.

This new graduate knows just what he wants when he leaves Stetson, MONEY!!

There once was a family who had a set of twins. As the boys grew older, they realized that one was the eternal pessimist and the other was the eternal optimist. One day, the parents decided to take them to see a psychologist, to see if he could "cure" their problem. After a little thought, he felt that he could resolve it by putting the pessimist in a room full of every toy imaginable, while the optimist was stuck in a room full of horse manure. "After this, the pessimist has got to be a little more optimistic and the optimist must be a little more pessimistic." A few hours past and they decided to check on the boys. The little pessimist was still unhappy. "This toy is broken, this one is out of batteries, and this needs another toy to be any fun!" he lamented. With one failure, the psychologist felt sure he would be successful with the second child. When they opened the door, though, the little optimist had found a shovel and he was laughing and shoveling the manure all over the room. "Why are you having such a good time?" asked the psychologist. "Well," answered the optimist, "in all this mess, there's gotta be a pony somewhere!"

WHERE'S THE PONY?

Colette: I just wanted to thank you for all of the times you were there for me, over the years. Your the greatest, Best of Luck in the future ^{Love,} Kitchel

Then I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, "Whom shall I send, and who will go for Us?" Then I said, "Here am I. Send me!" Isaiah 6:8

Dear Colette, It is with great pride that I write this message to you in your Senior annual. I can look back on your 22 years and say what a pleasure it has been to be your Mom. You have always been a ray of sunshine and happiness to this family. Thank you for allowing us to share the ups and downs in your life. Stay on the narrow road and continue to trust in the Lord in all things. God has his hand on you and will take you exactly where He wants you to go.
I love you, Mom

Dear Colette, I am truly blessed that our Lord has allowed me the opportunity to help you and Mack grow. All of the study and all of the time spent worrying about professors, grades, finances, sprains and sneezes has ended. I am so proud of you. You have represented your family well. Grandma Kitchel would be very proud. You have acted with courage and integrity and character. Continue to carry yourself proudly and always remember to 'do the right thing'.

Love, Bill

Gentle Words of Encouragement
Spend every day preparing for the next.

Dear Audrie Joyce Malone,

As you reach forward with one hand, accept the advice of those who have gone before you, and in the same manner reach back with the other hand to those who follow you: for life is a fragile chain of experiences held together by love. Take pride in being a strong link in that chain. Discipline yourself, but do not be harsh. The pleasures of life are yours to be taken. Share them with others, but always remember that you, too have earned the right to partake. Know those who love you: love is the finest of all gifts and is received only to be given. Embrace those who truly love you: for they are few in a lifetime. May you see the love around you in everything you do, and when troubles seem to surround you, may all the love shine through.

You are blessed - you are loved

Life's Mirror

*There are loyal hearts, there are spirits brave,
There are souls that are pure and true;
Then give to the world the best you have,
And the best will come back to you!*

*Give love, and love to your life will flow,
A strength in your utmost need;
Have faith, and a score of hearts will show
Their faith in your word and deed.*

*Give truth, and your gift will be paid in kind,
And honor will honor meet;
And a smile that is sweet will surely find
A smile that is just as sweet.*

*Give sorrow and pity to those who mourn;
You will gather in flowers again
The scattered seeds of your thought outborne,
Though the sowing seemed but vain.*

*For life is the mirror of king and slave--
'Tis just what we are and do;
Then give to the world the best you have,
And the best will come back to you!*

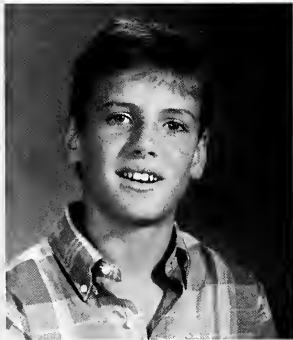

All through your life you have done things to the best of your ability, as you go into the world, remember it's the way to success. We are so proud to see you through yet another great accomplishment.

*We love you and wish you the best in all you do!
Dad, Mom, William, Lesley and Laura*

YOU LIGHT UP MY LIFE

So many nights I'd sit by my window, waiting for someone to sing me a song.
So many dreams I kept deep inside me, alone in the dark, but now you've come along.

You light up my life. You give me hope,
to carry on. You light up my days and fill
my nights with song.

Rollin' at sea, adrift on the waters could it be finally I'm turning for home.
Finally a chance to say, "Hey, I love you." Never again to be all alone.

You light up my life. You give me hope,
to carry on. You light up my days and fill
my nights with song.

We Love You Punkin,

Mom & Dad

Dear Kristin,

It seems like not so long ago that you were brought into this world.
It seems like not so long ago that you started your first day of school.
It seems like not so long ago that you started Junior High School.
It seems like not so long ago that you started High School.
It seems like not so long ago that you started College.

We remember the years as though it were yesterday, and we remember how our little girl has grown into a young woman that we are very proud of and admire very much. As you graduate and enter the world of business, we want you to know that we wish you the very best of everything the world has to offer and that we love you very much.

Love ya,
Mom & Dad

Love,
Scott
Congratulations!

Way to go Kristin!
Congratulations from the Hauge's up North.
Sorry we can't be there,

Kristin,
A degree from college is the formula for success only if one uses the knowledge obtained wisely. Do so Kristin, make us proud. Our congratulations upon your graduation.
With all our love,
Grandma & Grandpa

Kristin,
As you leave Stetson with your degree in hand,
just remember you're still my little sister
I love you.
Kim

Dear Ben,
Congratulations to our wonderful graduate. We are proud of your accomplishment. Dear son and brother, the world awaits you!
Love,
Mom, Dad, Todd & Jess

People have daughters and people have sons
God in His wisdom gave us CHARISE YUN
You captured our hearts even before you were one
Teem with brother you gave us lots of fun
With diligence now a degree from Stetson you've won
May your steps be continually guided by God's Son

We love you and are very proud of you
Dad, Mom and Ki

Dear David,

You are one of those rare individuals who has used your intellect, hard work and perseverance to achieve the high goals that you have always set for yourself. Sometimes the obstacles seemed to be insurmountable but you always forged ahead with determination and optimism and were ultimately successful.

As your journey through life continues, you will be faced with many important decisions. The path you take through life may not be well worn but may pave the way for others to follow.

Keep your faith in God, cherish yesterday, live for today, and plan for tomorrow. Just follow your rainbow, with Chris as your guide — and remember to thank Him for the many talents He has bestowed upon you.

Congratulations on your graduation!

Love, Dad, Mom, and Nicole

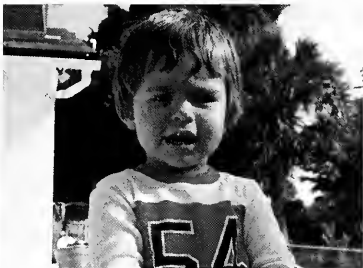

Kristy,
Your hard work, grades and determination have been superior. All your achievements have been outstanding and are too numerous to list.

As for your success the sky is the limit. You never cease to amaze us and we are extremely proud of you. Keep God first in your life always. Our hearts are full of pride and joy and our love for you has no end.

Congratulations! With our love, Momma & Daddy

Jen,
Congratulations! We are very proud of all your achievements, but it's what's inside of you that makes you such a special daughter! Best wishes for continuous success and happiness!

Love,
Mama & Daddy

Dear Heather,
Our pride and joy is boundless in you.

CONGRATULATIONS

BRIDGET

ON YOUR WELL-EARNED DEGREE. YOU DESERVE TO BE PROUD OF ALL OF YOUR ACCOMPLISHMENTS THESE PAST FOUR YEARS AT STETSON.

MAY GOD'S BLESSINGS GO WITH YOU AS YOU FACE A NEW CAREER AND NEW CHALLENGES.

LOVE MOM, DAD, AND SISTERS

Leda,

You have always been persistent in striving to be among the best in whatever you have undertaken. We are very proud of the achievements that you have made at Stetson.

With love and affection,
Mom and Dad

Dearest Kellie,
 You have accomplished so much in 22 years. We are very proud of you. We thank God every day for giving you to us. May God bless you and continue to guide you always.

“Yvonne Georgi, born July 27, 1975 in Hannover/Germany is the second daughter of Dimitri Georgi, electronics engineer and his wife Christa, secretary for foreign languages.

After having finished her high school in Germany, Yvonne started her studies at Stetson University in September 1994 emphasizing liberal arts as well as English and French.

She is a very open-minded person with widespread interests, especially for foreign languages. She speaks fluently German, English and French and still wants to learn Italian and Greek. Traveling is one of her most favourite hobbies, another one is horseback riding. Grown up with horses she is very fond of animals and used to have all kinds of them at home.

She loves theatre, art, music and fashion and reads piles of fashion magazines.

As profession she intends to become a journalist. Yvonne already completed an internship at a magazine for young and active people in her hometown in Germany.

For the summer 1998 she plans another internship with the German television company ARD in Washington.

She is an independent and critical young spirit always eager to meet other people as well as other countries and cultures.”

Omar you are an excellent son and human being. We are so much proud of your accomplishments. You got a great personality. God is blessing you forever.

To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven:

A time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted

The seeds you planted as a child are now beginning to flourish. You have grown in to a young woman that any mother would be proud of. Your strength and determination continue to make me every day.

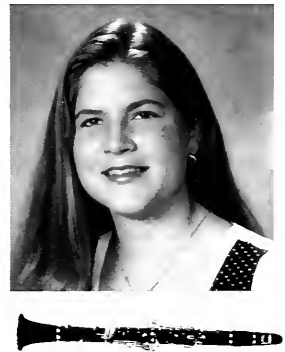

As you go out into the world, reach for the stars. Never give up on your dreams.

All my love,

Dearest Kim,

Ever since the first time we saw you, our hearts and lives have been filled with love, joy, laughter and pride.

You are a treasured gift of love and a never ending source of joy.

Know that you are loved as the wonderful daughter you've always been and the thoughtful and caring woman you've become.

You've always made us proud to be known as "Kim's Mom & Dad."

We take great pride in your accomplishments and wish you continued success in all you do.

With all our love always,

In Dedication To:

The whole of Stetson University is made up of many parts - students, staff, faculty and administration. There are those times where one among these groups epitomizes the best of Stetson. This was acknowledged and celebrated when Delores Green retired from the University in December of 1996.

Delores was born in Wisconsin as the oldest of three children. Due to her father's occupation, Doe spent her youth traveling and residing abroad. She graduated Valedictorian of her high school class of four in the Philippines. Her world education continued as she went to work for the United States Government. She was subsequently married and continue to work and travel with her husband in the Middle East and Africa. Later, she and her husband moved to the United States in the mid 1970's and settled in DeLand, Florida where they joined her retired parents. Shortly thereafter, they were blessed with the birth of their only child, Carol.

Doe's tenure at Stetson has been as diverse as her background. She became a Student Affairs staff member in 1980 when she joined the Department of Residential Life. She was a significant force in helping to develop the Residential Life program into one of the best in the South. She later became a Senior Secretary for the Associate Dean of Student Affairs and served in this position for over ten years. During this period, she was promoted to Administrative Specialist and excelled in office management, organizational skills, and assisted in editing and publishing significant department materials.

Doe's strengths were also evidenced in her ability to adapt to change. Through reorganizations she became the Administrative Specialist to the Judicial Affairs Officer in 1992 and later to the Office of the Associate Dean of Campus Life. The best indications of a person's success on a college campus is the regard by which they are held by students. There is no doubt that Doe Green was respected and loved.

Not only was Doe devoted to students with her work in the campus life area, but she was also a leader among her colleagues. She was an original member of the Quality of Services Committee and served as its second president. Changes made through this committee had far reaching effects for both staff and students at the University.

Delores Green exemplifies the qualities and traits that Stetson University aspires to teach. Her intelligence, commitment, confidence and caring approach made her a champion for Stetson.

It did not take long for Stetson to miss Delores Green. Shortly after her retirement, she was invited to return to Stetson on a part time basis as a Secretary in the Financial Aid Office. However, there is no doubt that Doe's primary interest is enjoying her daughter, Carol, son-in-law, Darren, and two granddaughters, Briley and Hayley, who recently moved to DeLand.

The Stetson community wishes her the same joy in retirement that she gave to us all of those years.

And you guys thought we couldn't pull it off!

Closing the doors

We are of one mind. We have worked; we have striven for the best we could be; we have labored for knowledge; we have opened our minds to new ideas. We have done all of this we have succeeded, we have come through and we have closed the doors.

Yet, even as we realize this, we realize that this is not an ending, but a transition from one phase of our lives to another-it is the step that leads to new and different pathways.

There is love and fondness for what we have done, and there is anticipation and joy for what yet will come. It is with hope that we look toward the coming years, knowing that we will build on our dreams until they are realized. With that we can close our final door.

Graduation closed the doors for many seniors here at Stetson, but it opened doors for them elsewhere.

The Alumni Association reminds us that no matter how far away we travel we will always belong to the alma mater.

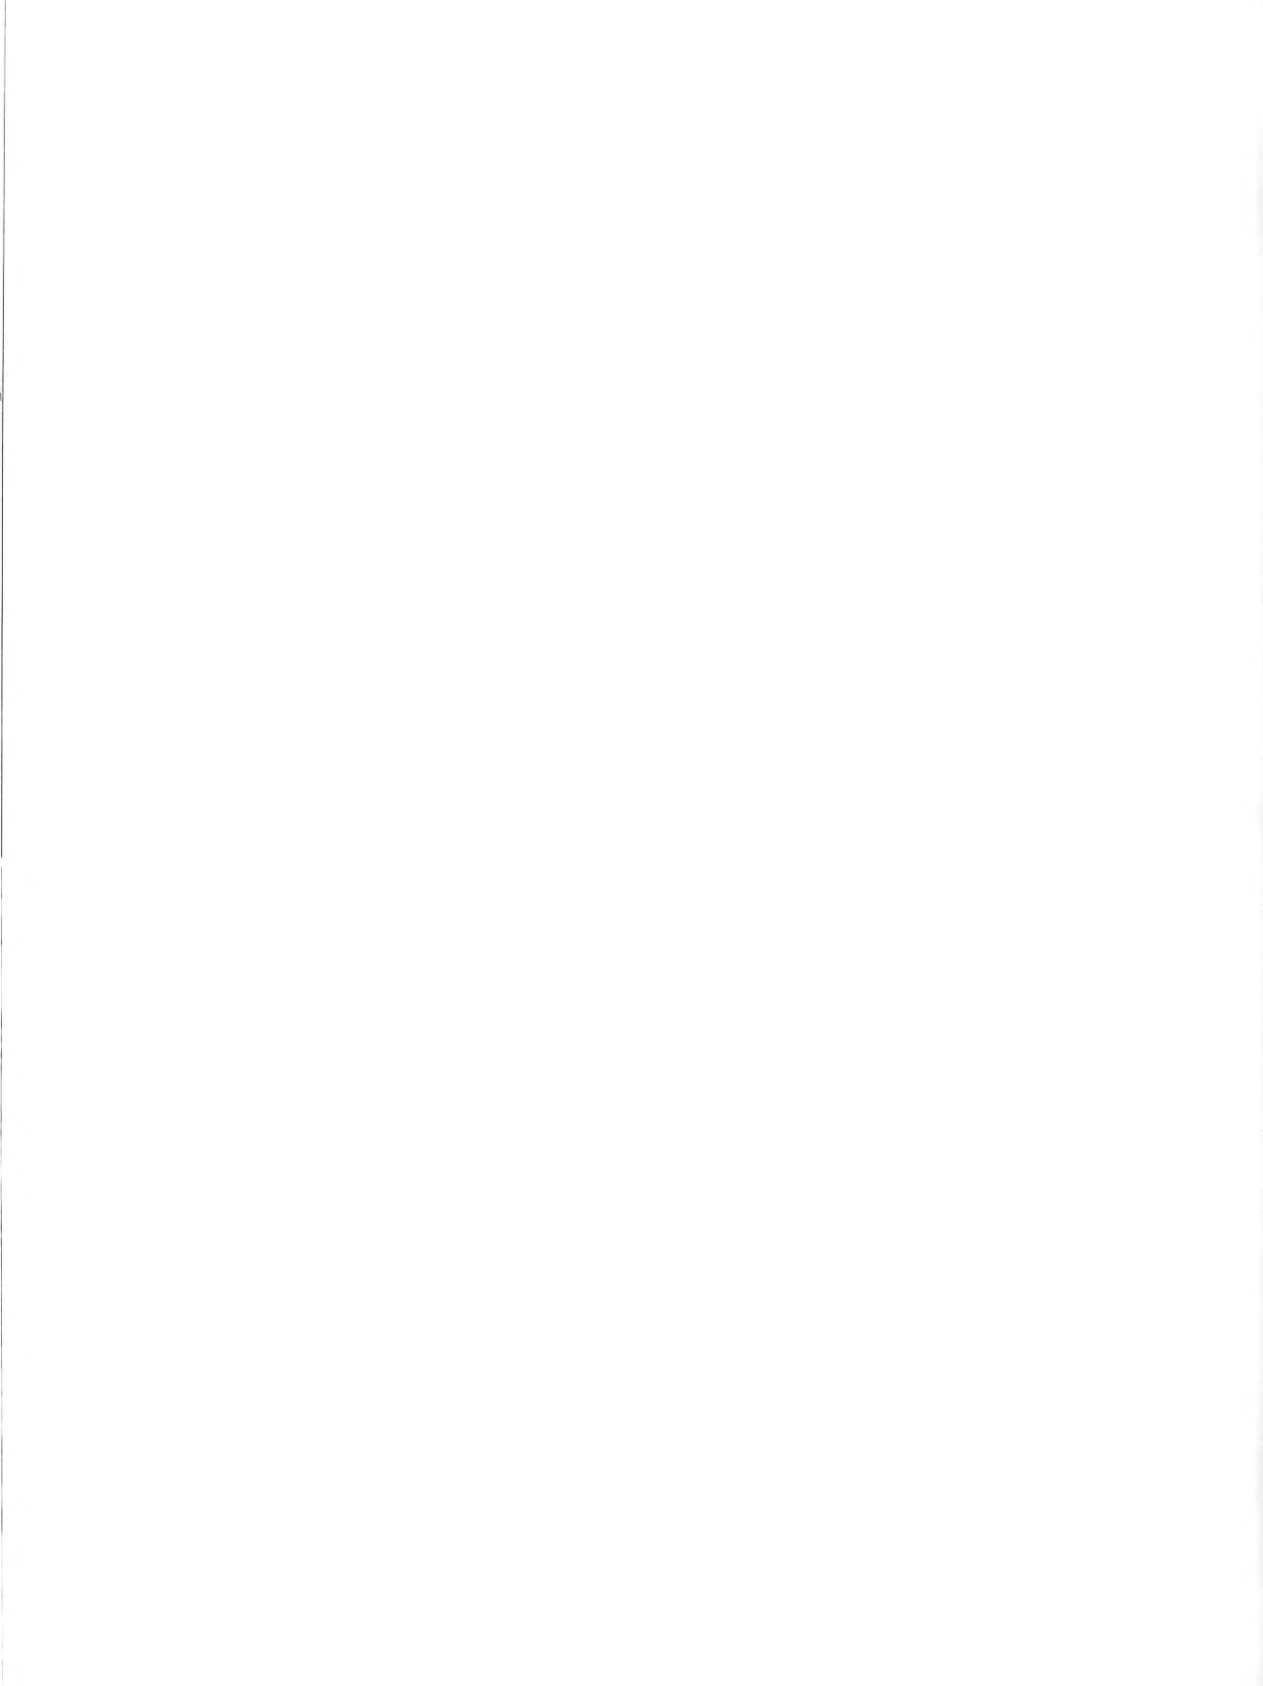

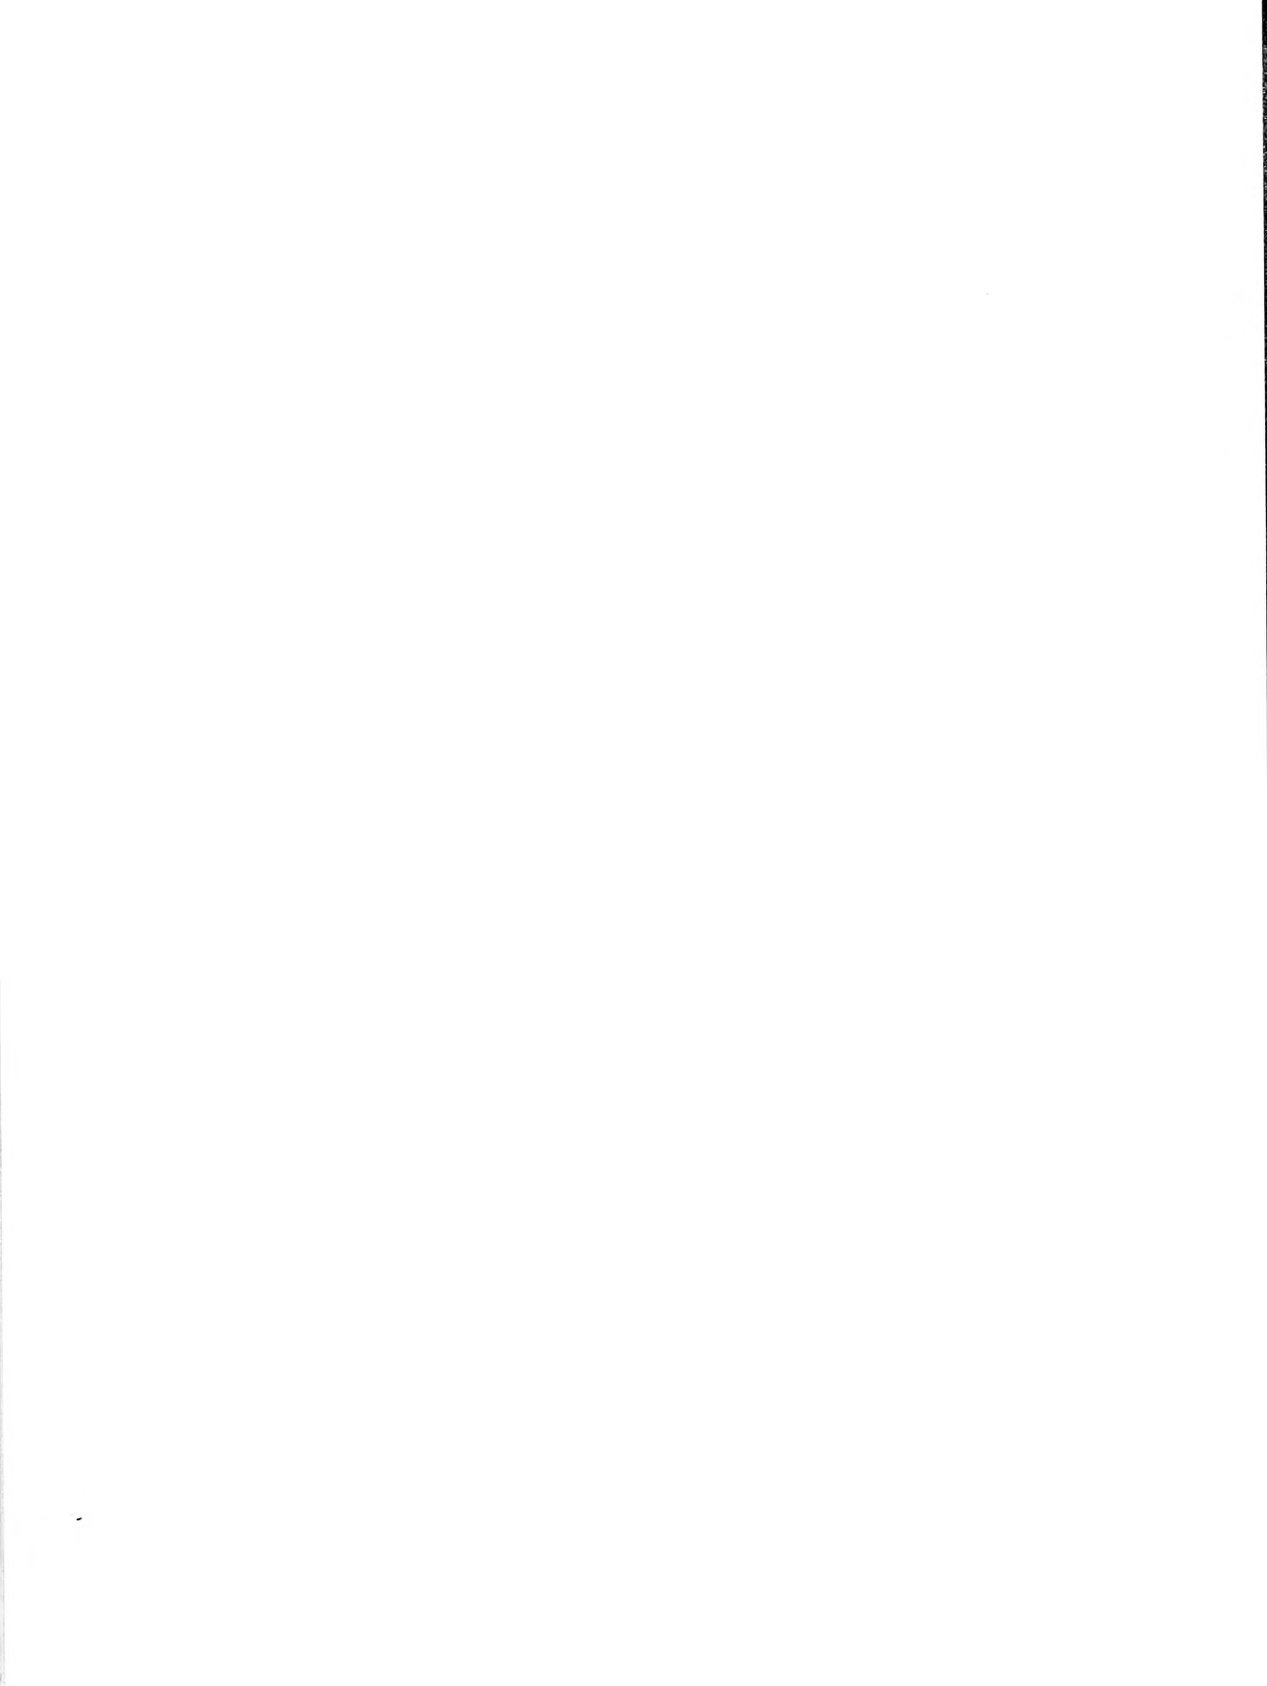

We begin next year during room selection, by choosing which doors we want to open when we come back.
